Property Rental System – Assumptions and Further Information

Student: Ria Bansal – 34267433

---

1. A rental is uniquely identified by the combination of tenant and property, with no additional rental identifier required.
2. A tenant and a property may exist in the system without being involved in any current rental (optional participation).
3. Each damage instance is uniquely identified by the combination of tenant, property, and damage date.
4. Each damage instance results in exactly one payment, and such payments are not shared across multiple damage records.